No Services Sunday at Mt. Calvary Baptist Church-Padloci Put On Door Saturday Night Without Knowledge of Pastor Dennis-He Issues a Statement on the Situation-

Those of the board of trustees and comiary support of the body, according to the solid after the stormy meeting of Friday night that Rev. J. H. Dennis should not preach at the church on Sunday evidently spoke by the book. Neither he nor anyone else occupied the pulpit, nor were there any services at the church on Sunday.

At 11 o'clock, the time announced for the regular morning service, the only signs of life about the church was a group of half a dozen children of the neighborhood waging a merry anowball battle on the front steps. At their backs was the front door, held fast shut with a brand new hasp, staple and padlock put on during Saturday night and left locked there to give its silent warning that all who came might read.

A minute or two before I one member of the congregation of colored people appeared, took a look at the locked door and went away to telephone to police headquarters to ask. Chief George Linton what rights he had about taking the padlock off. He was advised to leave it alone, and he did so.

The first that the pastor, Rev. Mr. Dennis, knew that the church was locked against him and that he couldn't get in, as he had no key, was lated against him and that he couldn't get in, as he had no key, was locked against him and that he couldn't get in, as he had no key, was lated and the padlock on the door. They couldn't tell who put it there, nor had he learned up to Sunday night.

The first chartened and the learned up to Sunday night.

The call the body that elected them for so doing. So the locking of the church of the law of both church and state.

So far as the pulpit being declared vacant, no vote to that affect was takenday to the church as well. Bustant and the church as well. Bustant and the learned up to Sunday night.

Statement by Rev. J. H. Dennis.

With reference to the meeting in the church of the pastor and trustees were lilegal. They have not resorted to one principle, that characterizes the Baptist church. All business and special meetings at any time must be by the consent of the pastor and the church directs. The pastor is moderator of all business meetings. RECEIVER APPOINTED.

For H. R. Porter & Son Co,-Money Shortage Through Freight Embar-

Upon the application brought by H. B. Porter and other stockholders, all of whom were represented by Brown & Perkins. Judge Shumway of the superior court appointed Gilbert S. Raymond as temporary receiver of the H. B. Porter and Sons Co., inc. The appointment was made on Friday and Mr. Raymond qualified by furnishing the necessary bond on Saturday. It is understood that the temporary receivership at the present time is made necessary through the rail-road embargo which has held up deliveries of stock to them, as they have much material in transit and has made it impossible for them to make deliveries on orders for goods which they have in hand. This has resulted in a money shortage to the firm. The new Salvation Army hall at No. 48 Water street was formally dedicated Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Captain C. H. Philips who is in charge of the local corps. The attendance was of fair size and the service was an enthusiastic one. Captain Albert Wilbur of New London, a brother of Captain E. W. Wilbur who was formerly in charge of the local work, was the speaker at the evening service. Captain Phillips extended an invitation to all who are to attend the meetings. Meetings are to be held every night except Monday and Wednesday and on Sundays, afternoon and evening services will be held. The hall has been renovated and a large number of chairs have been provided for the accommodation of those who attend the meetings. ed in a money shortage to the firm.
